

How2 share your vlogs with friends

Uploading a video to YouTube and choosing to share it

When you have set up your channel on YouTube, you can easily start to add your own videos to it.

At the top of the channel page, there is an upload button, in the top right corner.

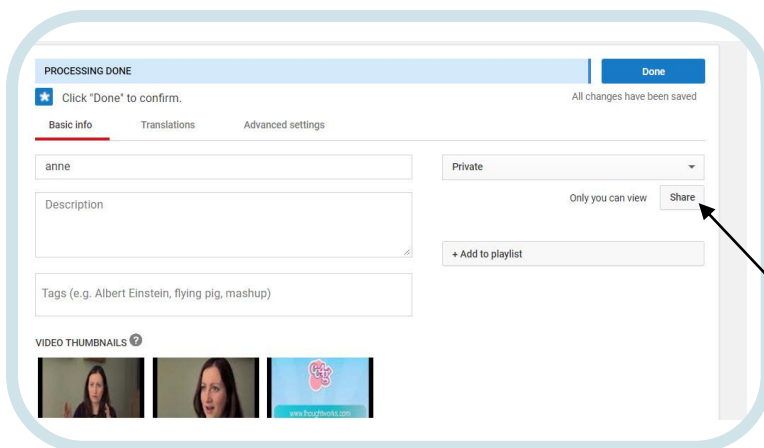

And at the bottom of the page, there is an 'upload content' link too.

Uploads Only you can view

You don't have any public recent uploads, so this will not appear on your channel. To add content, upload a video.

When you click on these upload links, you can browse your computer to find your video and then click to upload it. When it has uploaded, another window appears.

When your video has uploaded, you have a set of options. You can add a description, choose a thumbnail image to represent it, and some tags (which would be useful for others to search for your video if it was public). Here you can also choose to share your video with selected people.

Choosing your friends

Clicking on Share gives you the option to enter the email addresses of others who you would like to see your video.

Click into the box to add their email and select 'Notify by email'. This sends an email to your friends and gives them the link to your video.

You only need this option if you have selected Private when you uploaded the video. It's a great way to make sure only the people you choose can see your vlog!
